RETURNED WITH COMPLIMENTS, to the Secretary to Government of Mysore, Education Department, Bangalore.

(1) The Economic Survey conducted during 1941 relates to only 258 selected villages of the State. The II World War and its after effects have given rise to numerous fresh economic problems in the rural life of the country and the results of the Survey made in 1941 cannot be taken to represent the actual position of rural life as it stands today. It seems to me that conditions have radically changed during this interval of over eight years.

(2) I am inclined to consider that an Economic Survey of the whole State may be undertaken along with the Population Census 1951. This would involve considerable expense no doubt. But merely on grounds of economy, a useful investigation of this nature cannot be shelved indefinitely. The details of the necessary staff for this investigation have already been furnished in my letter No. A1-320/48-49 dated the 25th March 1949 (flagged '0' in this file). This staff is required only for purposes of a preliminary investigation and to collect the data and to assess the magnitude of the work involved if an Economic Survey on a State-wide basis is to be undertaken. The financial implications of the scheme also would be determined by this preliminary investigation.

CHIEF SECRETARY

GOVT. OF MYSORE

Sir,

At the last joint meeting of the Standing Committees of Departmental Economists and Statisticians, the question of collecting information of economic interest or conducting special surveys on the occasion of the next population census of 1951 through the Census Organisation was considered; and the conclusion of the Committees was that as a rule it would be undesirable to burden the Census staff and Census Investigators with extraneous duties of collecting economic data or to make the questionnaire, on which census enquiries are based, complicated or cumbersome.

2. It was, however, decided that in certain cases, economic enquiries of great interest could be conducted simultaneously when the census is in progress or soon after it. For such surveys special agencies and additional funds would have to be provided, but co-operation of the Census staff could be utilised to reduce the cost of such enquiries and make them more frutiful. The Census Commissioner agreed to consider all such proposals for conducting economic surveys, and to give his opinion on their desirability from the administrative stand-point. It was therefore decided to invite the Ministries, the Provinces, the States and Unions to forward proposals, if any, for the consideration of the two Standing Committees jointly and the Census Commissioner, and recommend for implementation such proposals as may appear to them promising and practicable.

3. As I have stated above, these enquiries will have to be conducted independently and financed by the authority sponsoring them; but co-operation of the Census staff would probably make for economy and efficiency. When the decennial census of 1941 was in progress, advantage was taken of the Census Organisation to conduct a few such surveys. In Mysore, for example, in co-operation with the Census Organisation, typical villages numbering 258 were selected and at the cost of a little less than Rs.100/- per village, fairly comprehensive surveys were conducted. Circumstances being different from one part of the country to another, it would be desirable to take local conditions into account in selecting subjects of economic enquiry, its form and scope; but the co-operation of the Census organisation could, with advantage, be utilized and would be available for approved enquiries.

4. May I know whether your Govt. have under consideration any proposals for carrying out such surveys or would like to initiate such proposals in view of the possibility of the Census Organisation's co-operation being made available. I shall greatly appreciate if you will kindly communicate to me as early as convenient proposals, if any, for conducting such economic surveys in co-operation with the Census Organisation. All these proposals would be considered by the Standing Committees of Departmental Economists and Statisticians and recommendations made in consultation with the Census Commissioner. An early reply is requested.

Yours faithfully,

Subject: Proposals for surveys to be conducted for collection of information of economic interest along with the Census Operation in 1951.

With reference to your letter No.S.R.3716/E.C.22-48-2 dated the 13th January 1949 calling for proposals, if any, for conducting economic surveys during the population census operations in 1951, I have the honour to suggest as follows:-

(1) An economic survey of typical villages in each district may be conducted along with Census which would include a survey of indebtedness in such villages.

(2) A survey of industrial resources of the State and a general survey of the existing industries, large scale, small scale and rural and cottage industries may also be undertaken

(3) A survey of special areas where Major Irrigational Projects have come into existence may be undertaken with a view to assess the direct and indirect benefits accruing therefrom.

2. For making these very important surveys useful and practicable, suitable staff in addition to the usual census staff of enumerators, supervisors and investigators would be necessary.

3. An officer of the status of an Assistant Professor of Economics and Sociology and two post-graduate research scholars in Economics for surveys indicated under items 1 and 2 supra and two experienced officers one from the Department of Industries and another from the Geological Department with two post-graduate research scholars possessing the required degrees under each officer for the survey of Industrial resources, with the necessary menial staff of a dozen helpers will have to be employed immediately to conduct the preliminary investigations before undertaking the surveys actually along with the Census.

The necessary clerical staff consisting of two Head Clerks, 4 clerks and two steno-typists, 30 sorters, 30 compilers, 6 supervisors and two Investigators for the two offices on the scales of pay to be sanctioned for the Census Office may have to be employed later on for compiling and publishing the report with statistics collected through the special enumerators to be appointed for each village or special areas as may be decided later. A suitable honorarium has to be paid to the enumerators having regard to the work to be entrusted to them.

4. I have made recommendations to Government on this behalf only on general lines without an estimate of cost. The actual expenditure to be incurred would depend on the extent to which these surveys are intended to be exhaustive and detailed. The type of survey that is porposed to be undertaken would form the basis for the future industrial expansion of the State. - This is long overdue and considerations of finance should not defer such an important measure being undertaken by Government. Economic affairs in Mysore require to be planned on up-to-date lines and without a proper statistical background, all our development schemes would be really handicapped. If the suggestions made above are acceptable to Government, detailed estimates of expenditure will follow.

Yours faithfully,

COMMISSIONER.

Sir,

Subject:- Proposals for survey to be conducted for collection of information of Economic interest along with the Census Operation in 1951.

With reference to your letter No. M.16458, dated 16th March 1949 calling for detailed estimates of expenditure on the suggestions made for conducting surveys for collection of information of Economic interest along with the Census operation in 1951, I have the honour to state that unless the staff noted in the accompanying statement is appointed to conduct the preliminary investigations and formulate the data to undertake the detail surveys suggested, it will not be possible to gauge the magnitude of the work involved or to be undertaken in respect of the three kinds of surveys suggested. I have noted also the probable expenditure that may be required to appoint the proposed staff for a period of six months and the same amounts to Rs.22,000/- (Rs 22,000/-)

2. If these proposals are approved by Government the University of Mysore, the Director of Industries & Commerce and the Director of Geology will be addressed to suggest a panel of names of Officers and Research Scholars for selection to undertake the investigations and submit the preliminary report.

3. In this connection I would suggest that Sri S. Nagappa, Retired Assistant Secretary to Government be re-employed on a special salary to take charge of the work relating to the Economic Survey of typical villages and the survey of indebtedness. When the Census operations are taken up early in 1950, he could be usefully employed on the regular Census Staff. He is an an Officer who did commendable work in connection with the Census operations of 1931 and 1941 and has acquired conside experience of details of work in regard to the taking of census for special purposes. It is very likely that his services would be readily requisitioned from any provincial or State Government but I would suggest that his services on this behalf should not be lost to Government. If this suggestion is acceptable, I would send for Sri Nagappa and persuade him to serve the State in this connection. But I venture to think that unless we make the job worthwhile for him, he might be unwilling to undertake the task.

4. It is really difficult to say what the actual expenditure for the survey suggested by me would be. I have had no experience of this work personally and I have collected data on the basis of work done previously. In any event the expenditure to be incurred would be fully justified as the staff suggested would have done valuable preliminary work for the bigger Census of 1951 and they could all be absorbed later more or less permanently.

Yours faithfully,

Commissioner.

Subject:- Conducting economic survey through Census Organisation.

The Government of India in their letter dated 2nd December 1948 intimated this Government that it was decided at the last joint meeting of the Standing Committee of Departmental Economists and Statisticians that the question of collecting information of economic interest or conducting special surveys through Census organisation would be undesirable, but in certain cases, economic enquiries of great interest could be conducted simultaneously as this would reduce the cost to be incurred for conducting such enquiries.

With this object in view, the Government of India have requested to intimate if this Government have under their consideration any proposal for carrying out such surveys or would like to initiate such proposals in view of the possibility of the Census organisation's co-operation being made available.

The Commissioner for Economic Development and Planning submitted proposals for conducting an economic survey of typical villages at an expenditure of Rs.22,000/- towards establishment and other charges.

The Financial Secretary observed as follows:--

" It may be first got confirmed that the cost of the census operations will be met by the Government of India. This is important and immediate."

"Only such items as the Government of India will pay for, may be undertaken. We cannot remain out of the all-India orbit and what is good enough for the rest of the country should be so for this part of it. The need for economy is urgent and if the Government of India do not pay for the proposed survey it may be dropped."

The Minister for Local Self-Government has ordered that the subject will be discussed with Sri.V.P. Menon.

The proposal for getting the consent of the Centre for meeting the entire expenditure on account of Census operations (1951) ~~xx~~ is separately put up for consideration with the Secretary, Government of India, States Department.

Minister for L.S.G. 3 7/1/50

I have discussed this subject with Sri V.P. Menon on 13th of this month. This question may be dropped now as the Govt of India are likely to take up this Economic survey on all India basis.
